17-YEAR-OLD FELIX CAPONE AWAITS SENTENCE AFTER PLEADING GUILTY TO MURDER OF WILLIAM KELLY AT FEASTERVILLE; IS FOURTH BROUGHT TO TRIAL IN CASE

Youth Appears More Like High School Junior Than A Member of A Murder Gang — Plea Entered Before Judges Keller and Boyer — Is the Only One of The Quartet to Plead Guilty in The Case.

DOYLESTOWN, Sept. 30 — The fourth man to come to trial for the Feasterville murder of William Kelly, last December, is awaiting sentence by the two judges in the case. The young defendant, Felix Capone, Philadelphia, pleaded guilty yesterday, and sentence was deferred.

Looking more like a high school junior than a member of a Philadelphia murder gang, 17-year-old Capone was brought to court yesterday morning handcuffed to Sheriff H. Raymond Ahlum.

He entered his plea of guilty to the part he took in the fatal shooting of William Kelly, of Trevese, while fleeing from a holdup at the Feasterville Inn, last December.

Neatly attired in a blue serge suit, maroon cravat, white shirt and cordovan shoes; his black hair sleeked in a pompadour, Kelly's plea was taken before Judge Hiram H. Keller and Calvin S. Boyer.

Capone is represented by Attorney Edward A. Kelly, of Phila., and Frederick Ely Smith, of Doylestown. The Commonwealth's case was handled by District Attorney Edward G. Biester.

The youthful Philadelphia, is the only one of the four who pleaded guilty. Harry Zeitz, 18; Arnold Foster, 23, and Dave Darcy, 22, were all convicted and are in the Bucks County Prison awaiting the outcome of appeals of their death sentences.

Both sides agreed that the record of testimony in previous trials be admitted into the record so far as it connects Capone with the Kelly murder.

Capone's father and mother and other members of his family were in court.

John R. Raynsmith, proprietor of the Feasterville Inn, was called as the first commonwealth witness. The convicted trio were not in court.

During the testimony, young Capone lowered his head and stared at the counsel table in front of him. The holdup and shooting inside the Feasterville Inn, on Dec. 22, was described by Raynsmith.

"I did not see Capone in my Inn the night of the holdup," Raynsmith testified, "but I saw him the next day in a Philadelphia police station."

Zeitz, Darcy and Foster staged the inside shooting orgy and hold-up at Feasterville Inn, in which two patrons were shot during the scuffle.

During the Darcy trial, part of the written admissions was that the guns used in the holdup and shootings were stolen by young Capone from his own home.

During the Darcy trial, Capone's name was mentioned in connection with the second holdup the night of Dec. 22, at Deacon's Inn, near Pennedel. He was inside the Inn with the others.

Darcy is alleged to have handed Capone his gun and said: "You ought to try this sometime, it's fun."

When the bandit-gang was arrested.

A VOTE FOR TRUMAN IS A VOTE FOR STILL HIGHER PRICES!

Three years ago, when the war ended, President Truman promised to "hold the line against inflation."

Since then, prices have been rising steadily. Every move he has made has turned out to be a blunder. He has had, some of the time, almost unlimited power—more than any other President had in peacetime. Yet he wasn't able to stop the persistent increase in cost of everything everyone needs.

All he has done recently has been to pass the buck to the Republicans. "They're to blame," he says. "It's Congress' fault."

But the fact is that the Democrats were in power in Congress during nearly two-thirds of the time when the damage was being done. Prices went up then just as they have been doing recently. The President killed off the OPA. He passed up one good chance to ask its restoration, and said nothing about it. Then, on the eve of this campaign, he suddenly decided he shouldn't have disbanded OPA in the first place, and called a special session to get it rebuilt. This didn't make sense to Congress (neither to the Democrats nor to the Republicans), and because Congress reminded the President that he had called price-controls "the tools of police states," he got angry.

The point is that when the President had all the power he wanted, when he had OPA in full force, and innumerable other authorities as well, when he was still armed with virtually all of the war-powers—he couldn't hold prices down then.

Think this over. You will come to the conclusion that it isn't a question of "powers" so much as it is a question of know-how. President Truman didn't know how to fight inflation back in 1945. He didn't know how in 1946. He didn't know how in 1947. And he doesn't know how today.

Think it over further. Doesn't all this prove that prices are going to keep right on rising so long as President Truman is in the White House—no matter how much he fumes, scolds, and passes the buck to Congress?

JOURNEY TO "RIO" IS OF INTEREST TO CLUB

Charles Werner Serves As Delegate at Rotary International Convention

A BENSELEM SPEAKER

ANDALUSIA, Sept. 30 — At the weekly dinner meeting of Benselem Rotary Club, Tuesday evening, Charles Werner, who served as a delegate to the recent Rotary International Convention in Rio De Janeiro from the Benselem Rotary Club, presented national color pictures of his trip. Mr. Werner told members of the welcome received when his ship reached Brazil.

Many beautiful scenes were enjoyed in the films—the colorful bands on the piers to greet the Rotarians, the panorama of a mountain bordered bay with sheer Sugar Loaf jutting like a tall hat, of scalloped beaches ringed with white skyscrapers, of mosaic patterned sidewalks and tree-arched streets, of the lofty statue of Christ, the Redeemer, on a mountain, back of the city, gleaming at night against drifting clouds.

Scenes of the botanical gardens, the 10 million dollar Quintandina hostelry in Petropolis, Sao Paulo known as "the Chicago of Brazil", Iguaazu Falls, open street cars, riders clinging to the sides reminiscent of San Francisco's cable cars, the buses and taxis and planes, all elicited quite a bit of attention among the members.

Commenting on the people of Brazil, Mr. Werner spoke of the "friendly people in whom is blended old world grace and a quenchless instinct of hospitality." Bi- and tri-lingual aid for visitors was dispensed by well organized committees at the House of Friendship, Casa da Amizade, in the spectacular modern Ministry of Education.

Annual Volume of Business To Be Seven Million, It Is Claimed

BOOSTS EMPLOYMENT

To Expand Bristol Plant For Production of Sanitary Equipment

A substantial interest in Kaiser-Fleetwings, Inc., here, has been purchased by Sears, Roebuck & Company, according to announcement from Sears, Roebuck & Company, released through Kaiser-Fleetwings, here.

For several months it has been unofficially known that Kaiser-Fleetwings had large contracts with Sears, Roebuck. There was never any official confirmation or publicity released.

According to T. V. Houser, merchandising vice president of Sears, arrangements have been made by Sears, Roebuck with the Kaiser interests to expand the Bristol plant for the purpose of producing porcelain, enamel, steel sanitary equipment exclusively for Sears.

Houser states that the post-war demand for various types of plumbing fixtures has made it essential that Sears expand its supply sources for this type of merchandise. "The Kaiser deal will," he emphasized, "merely supplement present sources of supply. It is expected that the Bristol factory, which is turning out aluminum and steel products for the Kaiser Enterprises, will begin producing sanitary ware early in November. The items to be manufactured will include sinks, bathtubs, lavatories, and sink cabinets."

A spokesman for the Kaiser-Fleetwings interest said that locally the new set-up will mean: Expansion program in excess of one million dollars; volume of business seven million dollars annually; increased employment up to 1500 with the next year.

Dog-Gone Good!

(By "The Stroller")
A sixth ward woman paid a call on a neighbor a few days ago, her pet dog following her. "Bring the dog in," the hostess invited.

"No, he's too much of a nuisance," was the reply.
But after insistence on the part of the hostess, the dog was privileged to enter and roam the house.

As the two women talked they suddenly heard a crash in the kitchen. A rush to that part of the house revealed that a freshly roasted piece of beef had been knocked off the kitchen table by the dog who was proceeding to enjoy it.

Russia Unwilling to Answer Charges

Paris—One of the most dramatic sessions in United Nations history found Russia unwilling or unprepared today to answer charges she is blocking atomic energy control. The organization's political committee was adjourned abruptly at the request of Soviet Delegate Andrei Vishinsky. He had passed up chance after chance to reply to U. S. Delegate Warren R. Austin. Discussing Soviet objections to a majority report by the U. N. Atomic Energy Commission calling for international inspection and control of atomic weapons, Austin said: "Fear has replaced above control." When the U. S. representative had finished his address, all eyes turned toward Vishinsky. The Russian Deputy Foreign Minister remained silent. Committee Chairman Premier Paul Henri Spaak of Belgium gave Vishinsky every opportunity to speak. The dropping of a pin could have been heard in the crowded, stuffy conference room.

Pennsylvania has more farm-retail markets than any other state.

The largest cattle market east of Chicago is the stockyard at Lancaster, Pa.

Pennsylvania's dairy products,
valued at $252,000,000 in 1947, were worth more than those of seven south Atlantic States combined.

More than half of the Nation's supply of mushrooms comes from two Pennsylvania counties—
Chester and Delaware.

More than half a million visitors attend the Pennsylvania State Farm Show each January
in Harrisburg.

A stone monument in honor of the York Imperial Apple stands on the York County, Pennsylvania farm where the apple originated.

Pennsylvania exceeds 41 other states in percentage of farms operated by full owners.

Although considered chiefly an industrial state, Pennsylvania produces over 10 per cent of the Nation's total food and kindred products.

Ten Pennsylvania counties are among the 100 highest chicken counties in the United States.

Egg production per layer on Pennsylvania farms has increased more than 50 per cent in the past 25 years. The state ranks 3rd in number and 2nd in the value of its eggs.

Organized in 1785, the Philadelphia Society for Promoting Agriculture is the oldest agricultural society in the United States that has left a definite history of its origin and subsequent doings.
It is still active. George Washington was an honorary member.

Pennsylvania has the second largest rural population of all the states, and agriculture represents a larger capital investment than either mining or the manufacture of primary metals.

The Pennsylvania Farm Show building in Harrisburg contains nearly 14 acres of floor space un-

It's one of those darlings with tiny fine pleats radiating from a high jewelry neckline. You know how the style flatters! Being of wool jersey, such a blouse makes it possible to wear a suit without a topper well into brisk weather. Lovely shades such as winter white, green, aqua, brown, etc., and in sizes 32 to 38. It is a $5 blouse, but the special "Week" price is $4. (2nd fl.)

HAND BAG WARD-ROBE. Now you can have a handbag for every ensemble! Extra-tempting? Not when you can buy a smart bag in plastic calf or one of the modded fabrics at the aboard price of $1.89 plus 20%
U. S. tax. That's the "Snellenburg Week" price, of course. The bags are worth more. I saw, in the group, blacks, browns, reds, greens, etc., in under-arm, top-handle, and shoulder-strap designs. Samples and slight irregulars. Handbag
Dept. (1st fl.)

THE EXPENSIVE LOOK is found in the overnight and weekend cases specially priced for "Snellenburg Week." These cases are covered with sturdy,
woven canvas fabric and have rich bindings of cowhide. Each is nicely lined with rayon and equipped with two strong locks. Already they are being bought to hide away for Christmas! And why wouldn't they be, at the current price of $6.95, plus 20% U. S. tax, instead of $8.95 plus 20% U. S. tax. Better look 'em over. Oh yes, they come in 16, 18 and 21 in. sizes. (1st fl.)

UMBRELLA CHEER.
There's nothing like a really colorful umbrella
to perk up a rainy day.
Ever watch them bobbing like poodles on a city street? Why not take part in the show? At the price of $2.99, instead of $3.95 to $4.95 each, you can have an umbrella to match your ensemble. Or, perhaps you'd like to stow away more than one for Christmas giving. These umbrellas are specially priced for the current "Snellenburg Week"
sales. (1st fl.)

SOMETHING NEW!
"Pin-tufted" chenille bedspreads. They look something like finewaled corduroy. Those which the Bed Coverings Dept. is featuring for "Snellenburg Week" are selling for $8.39 instead of the usual $19.95. The close-woven, pin-tuft stripings make a firm but not bulky background for velvety overlaid designs in multi-color. Homemakers are delighted with them. There's a choice of single or double-bed sizes, and a choice among blue, rose, pink, green, aqua, etc. backgrounds. Easier to launder! (2nd floor.)

HAT "BUY." The First Floor Millinery Dept.
in Snellenburgs is a Mecca for even the wealthy well-dressed
when it comes to picking up pert styles. To celebrate the store's name "Week,"
the department is offering dressy pure wool felts, with flattering feather trims and glamorous illusion veils, at a mere $2.25, instead of $2.85. You'll find all the new Autumn and Winter approved shades, including, of course, black.
The Department caters to all fashion-conscious femininity from debut to their mothers. (1st fl.)

HIS OLD HAT. Has
your man's headpiece been bothering you for months, maybe years?
Guide him, or send him,
right over to the Men's Hat Dept. during "Snellenburg Week." He'll appreciate a bargain as much as any woman.
He won't object one little bit to buying a $7.50 to $10 hat at the special "Week" price of only $4.95!
Some have very slight imperfec-tions. The hats are real fur felts in several very smart styles, and he'll find a size to fit his precious head, swelled or not. Be sure you tell him. (3rd fl.)

Seventeen-Year-Old Felix Capone Awaits Sentence

ed in Philadelphia, a short time after the holdups, Capone was seated in the front seat with Zietz. Some loose money and change was found in Capone's pocket. Practically all of the stolen loot and money was found in the pockets of Zietz, Foster and Darcy.

Frank Walter, 29, of Feasterville, testified that he saw the victim Kelly fall in the highway after two flashes of flame came out of the drivers window. Walter said Kelly was shot in the back of the head.

Horace Paterson, 18, Feasterville, corroborated Walter, and added that he saw three men get into the hand car.

Fred W. Lachenman, proprietor of Deacon's Inn, described the hold-up in his place. He said that Capone had a gun in his hand but did not shoot. He said one of the defendants played the boogie-woogie on the piano.

Joseph Sersch, 24, of Langhorne, testified that he was playing shuffleboard at Deacon's Inn and saw three men come in. Darcy declaring it was a stickup, after telling us they had just held up another place.

Zietz said to Capone when he came in, "this is a stickup." Zietz handed his gun to Capone and Capone said, "this is fun you ought to try this some time."

Patrolman William Bourman, who arrested the bandits at Frankford avenue, and Friendship street, Philadelphia, testified. Zietz was driving; Capone was in front with him; and Darcy and Foster were in back. Watches, empty shells and money were found in the car. There was $24.11 found on Capone.

Detective Sergeant Patrick J. Kennedy, Philadelphia, identified written statements made by Felix Capone, when interrogated by police.

The statements implicate Capone in other offenses. Attorney Kelly brought out the point that Capone has never been convicted of any of the offenses charged in the statements admitted in evidence.

The Commonwealth agreed that the fatal shot was fired from Zietz's gun. "And I am quite certain the record shows that Zietz fired the fatal shot," Attorney Kelly said to the court.

Felix Capone, Sr., employed by a Philadelphia chain store for 18 years as a meat cutter, and father of the defendant said his son was born in March, 1931. "I warned my son not to run around with Zietz, Darcy and Foster," Capone testified. "I never had much trouble with my son, but his true he has been before juvenile court on a number of occasions."

District Attorney Biester pointed out that on Feb. 16, 1945, Capone was arrested for truancy; April 18, 1945, stealing a car; Feb. 1, 1946, breach of peace; May 12, 1946, truancy; April 1946, larceny of auto.

Mrs. Rose Capone, mother of Felix, Jr., testified her son was born in Hammonton, N. J., and lived in Philadelphia, since he was two years old.

The mother testified she had more trouble with Felix, Jr., than the rest of the children, and that he has trouble reading and writing. Mrs. Capone said her son played some football at Mastbaum Vocational school. Mrs. Capone said that she didn't know that her son had been connected with the theft of 11 automobiles, in answer to District Attorney Biester's question. "My boy was very easily led," Mrs. Capone said. "We would keep him home at night for punishment. He got a drivers license when he became 16 years of age."

Mrs. Marie Alosi, of Philadelphia, a sister of the defendant, said her brother could not read or write, and that he went out at night even when he was 14 years old.

Young Capone said he was never good in English in school; that he couldn't read.

"I was in ninth grade and could not read or write," Capone testified. "I was jumped a grade to get into Mastbaum, to play football."

"I met the other fellows in Frankford a couple of years ago. I met Zietz five years ago. 'We were all in 'Cedar Bar' in Frankford, drinking beer the night of Dec. 22. I had about seven glasses of beer. We took a fellow home to Byberry, and drove to Feasterville."

"Zietz, Darcy and Foster went inside the tavern. I stayed in car; I didn't want to go in, but I knew what they went in for, I knew the place was robbed. I was scared."

"Zietz fired two shots out the car window. Foster gave me some of the money. I didn't know that night that somebody had been killed. I didn't know that Zietz was going to fire a revolver."

"We made up the Feasterville holdup in the afternoon of Dec. 22. 'I stole the holdup guns from my house. I took hinges off a door to get my fathers gun; the others belonged to my brothers. I would put the guns back in my house between the holdups."

"I was in four or five places that were held up and I had a gun on four occasions previous to the Bucks County jobs."

"I went in to Deacon's Inn, and Darcy handed me his gun, and I gave it back, but before going out I played a few bars on the piano. I didn't know until after that, on the way to Philadelphia that I knew any shots were fired at Feasterville."

"I never heard any shots fired." Twelve or 14 shots were fired in Feasterville, the District Attorney pointed out.

"We wanted money for Christmas and were out of jobs," Capone told the court. "We wanted to buy presents for our families."

In one holdup at Bell's Tavern, three weeks before the Feasterville job, Capone sat in the car and a Philadelphia fireman was shot and was at deaths door for a time.

Capone admitted he fired 4 shots in the wall at Wolf's Tavern holdup in Elkins Park, around the same period. One man was shot.

"In my mind no single one of us were responsible for the holdups than the others," Capone testified. "We had no signals; sometimes I went in the places and sometimes I didn't."

"We would plan the holdup in the afternoon while riding around, and would meet at night."

Judge Keller granted request of Attorney Kelly to have Capone examined by a psychiatrist before sentence is pronounced and the degree fixed.

Here and There In Bucks County Towns

C. Lewis, Warrington, crashed in flames. The Doylestown Fire Company was on the scene in 5 to 7 minutes, according to several observers. The truck purchased from the Fairmont Fire Company, Lansdale, two weeks ago was the first in action with its booster pump.

The building was too far in flames to be saved.

No one present had any idea how the fire started although many of them were questioned, and several reported hearing a minor explosion bursting about the time they noticed the flames.

Today's Quiet Moment

By the Rev. Samuel Gaskell
Pastor
Tullytown Methodist Church

Our Father, in heaven, we praise Thee for the mercy sent, to which we can ever come. We are exhorted to come with boldness, that we may find grace and mercy. Thou art more willing to bless than we are to ask, to give than we are to receive. But too many of us have lost the way; in our bewilderment we are running after every will-o'-the-wisp we see. Grant to us clear vision to behold the beauty of the Lord, and to inquire in His Temple; we ask in the Name of Him who said, "I am the Way." Amen.

ELMER PUTS LIFE INTO GOODWILL AND TEAM WINS

PALMYRA, Sept. 29—Joe Elmer instilled the spirit that the Goodwill Hose eleven needed to beat the Palmyra Panthers last night under the lights on the Palmyra high school field.

Elmer, absent during the first half because of attending a night session at school, was inserted in the tilt during the second half and scored the touchdown which beat the Jersey club, 6-0, and gave the hoemen their third straight victory of the 1948 campaign.

During the first half, the firemen played the Panthers to a scoreless stalemate. During this tenure, Goodwill outscored their foes in first downs, five to one, but still the Jerseyites' goal line wasn't threatened.

After the half-time recess, Elmer's handling of the ball on the "T" made the fire-eaters appear to be a different club and besides scoring the touchdown, the Goodwill team added eight more first downs to its credit. Palmyra had four more first downs in the second half but all of these were on completed passes.

Kiwanis Club Conducts Another Forum

PENNDLE, Sept. 30—The Bucks County Lincoln Highway Kiwanis Club staged another interesting forum at its dinner meeting on Tuesday evening at the Royal Gardens. The subject for discussion was "Pennsylvania Week" with particular reference to the "Influence of the State upon Our Country Towns."

John A. A. Crowley, who prepared the program, made a few introductory remarks concerning Pennsylvania Week and then proceeded to introduce the guest speakers.

Henry J. Probert, C. P. A., from Bethayres, and State Legislator, explained how legislation becomes law. He went into detail in the explanation and presented his topic in a comprehensive manner. It was interesting to note that some 3,223 bills were introduced in 1947 for legislation. As in any other organization, committees play a big part in the passage of a bill.

William Stackhouse, president of the Fire Association of Bucks County, gave a very thorough explanation on "How Jurors are selected in the County." Mr. Stackhouse made it clear that politics does not enter into the selections at all and the selections are made in a fair manner. A wheel is used in selecting the jurors and the spin of the wheel determines who will be on the jury for each particular term.

Dr. W. Brenner, director of the Pennsylvania Institute of Criminology, concluded the forum with a complete summary of his experiences as a member of the Institute of Criminology. He related many experiences with criminals and dwelt upon the value of the lie detector. He also spoke of the readjustment of the criminal after his release from the penal institutions.

Following the interesting talks of the three speakers a question and answer session was staged. Then the meeting came to a close with the group singing the "Star-Spangled Banner."

HONESTY PAYOFF

MCPHERSON, Kan., Sept. 30—Dick Hess went on vacation with his parents to Port Ontario, Canada. He lost his billfold but got it back the day after he returned home. The billfold, with a money order for the cash that it had contained, had been mailed to Hess by the finder in Canada.

ROOMING EXPERIMENT

BURRANK, Cal., Sept. 30—(AP)—Richard Dempsey, 15, is — or at least — was interested in chemistry. In an experiment, he mixed together sulphur, charcoal, phosphorus and potassium chlorate. Richard opened the door and the windows the hard way with an explosion. He suffered burns and a mangled hand.

POTTSTOWN HIGH TO PLAY BRISTOL TOMORROW NIGHT

Pottstown High, one of the toughest teams on Bristol's schedule, will pay a visit here tomorrow night to meet the Warriors under the lights on the high school field. Last season, Pottstown rolled up a 40-0 triumph over Bristol.

The Trojans, coached by Heber T. Meyers, of the University of Illinois, scored a 26-0 win over Tom Campion's Upper Merion team last week. Coach Meyers and his staff of five assistants have practically the same team that represented the Trojans last season.

The squad, shaved to 24 players, is captained by 'Bud' Rath, one of the outstanding ends in the Pottstown district, and Dave Towers who is at his center position for the third season.

One of the highest scorers in the coal region is in the Pottstown backfield. This player, Tote Howard, is one of the best open field runners in scholastic ranks, scoring three times against Upper Merion. Coach Meyers also has a triple-threat star in Bobby Manger who is quarterbacking the team. Manger is noted for his basketball scoring but can also carry the piskin on the gridiron.

Despite the array of material left over from last season, Pottstown has its lightest squad in years and is depending on experience and speed to beat the Bristol team.

Coach McClister put the Warriors through some hard paces this week, a little disappointed in the showing against Trenton Catholic. The blocking against Catholic was not up to expectations and although Matecki's kicking kept them in a hole, Bristol showed a fine offensive against most of the first downs clicked off were made in its own territory.

Enlistment of 18-Year-Old Youths To Be Increased

The enlistment of 18-year-old youths in the Bucks County Area for the special one year enlistment in the Army or Air Force will be increased, due to a substantial boost in the quota allocation to this area, according to M/Sgt. George S. Calder, local recruiting officer.

Sgt. Calder said, "The increased quota will become effective on October first, 1948, and we feel sure that all who apply will be successful in securing enlistment should they be otherwise qualified."

Sgt. Calder emphasized the fact that each applicant must have in his possession his birth certificate or valid certificate from the Bureau of Vital Statistics in order that his age may be verified.

It will no longer be necessary for an applicant to apply more than once for the one year enlistment. His original application will be maintained on file in good order until such time as his name is reached on the list of those to be processed for enlistment, and it is believed that it will not be necessary for any such applicant to wait in excess of two weeks from date of application until he is called for processing. Even though the applicant may reach his nineteenth birthday prior to being called for processing he is still eligible for this enlistment so long as his application was accepted at the Recruiting Station prior to his reaching his nineteenth birthday.

Sgt. Calder stated that the recruiting station at Room No. 5, Grand Theatre Building, is open Monday through Friday from 8:30 a. m. to five p. m. during which time youths may apply for the one year enlistment.
